DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a) because they fail to show the lever and arm as described in the specification, the lever and arm shown on Fig.4 does not correspond to elements shown on Fig. 9. Any structural detail that is essential for a proper understanding of the disclosed invention should be shown in the drawing. MPEP § 608.02(d). A proposed drawing correction or corrected drawings are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.
2. The drawings are objected to as failing to comply with 37 CFR 1.84(p)(4) because reference character "46" has been used to designate both extended arm and an open position (see Page 8, line 15). A proposed drawing correction or corrected drawings are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

3. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.
4. Claims 3, 14, 19, 23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claims 3, 14, 19 and 23 are vague and indefinite because insufficient details are shown in the drawings.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

5. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

6. Claims 1, 2, 4-12, 15-18, 21, 22, 24-29 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Cromwell.

Cromwell discloses a computer assembly comprising an integrated circuit chip (IC) 3, a heat sink 1 with a base, an alignment cage 13 attached to the heat sink 1 and receiving the IC, a circuit board 15, a socket 11 mounted to the circuit board 15, the alignment cage 13 comprises an alignment tab 8, 12 that aligns the alignment cage to the socket 11, a plurality of alignment pins 17 are attached to the heat sink 1 and engaged with a receptacle in the circuit board (not numbered), the IC is attached to the alignment cage before being installed on the socket, the interface between the chip and the socket cannot be observed because it is obscured by the heat sink. The method steps of claims 6-9, 26-29 are necessitated by the device structure as disclosed by Cromwell.

7. Claim 13 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Thomsen. Thomsen discloses an integrated circuit chip socket 53 having open and closed positions comprising an interface for coupling an integrated circuit chip (IC) to a circuit board 51 and plurality of slots 55 disposed around the perimeter of the interface and providing an interface surface for alignment of a heat sink.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

8. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

9. Claims 3, 23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Cromwell in view of Lo.

Cromwell discloses the claimed invention except the locking lever. Lo discloses the assembly having the locking lever that is actuatable when the heat sink installed. It would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to include the locking lever as disclosed by Lo in the structure disclosed by Cromwell for locking and releasing the IC.

10. Claim 14 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Thomsen in view of Lo.

Thomsen discloses the claimed invention except a locking arm. Lo discloses the locking arm mounted on an extended portion for actuating the socket in open or closed position. It would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to include the locking arm as disclosed by Lo in the socket disclosed by Thomsen for locking and releasing the IC.

11. Claim 19 and 20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Lo.

Art Unit: 2835

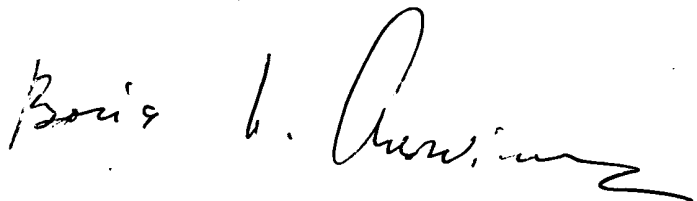

Lo discloses a circuit chip 42 and a heat sink 10 mounted on a socket 50, a locking lever on the socket allows the removal of the heat sink of the socket and consequently removing the IC chip from the heat sink because the IC chip remains attached to the heat sink by tabs 17 and 18. Lo discloses the claimed invention except the circuit board. It would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art that the socket must be mounted on the circuit board to be functional.
